PENAL CODES OF OF THE STATE OF SAN ANDREAS
GOVERNED AND UPHELD BY THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

Jose Esco
Supreme Court Justice

Kiana Kaslana
Governor

Edward Cullen
Attorney General

Civil rights of State of San Andreas

Amendment 1: Freedom of Speech

This amendment guarantees the right to freedom of speech while ensuring a balance between individual expression and societal harmony. The restrictions aim to maintain public respect and safety:

1. Prohibited Language: Explicit derogatory terms like the F-word and N-word are strictly banned to prevent offensive or harmful speech.
2. Hate Speech and Political Incitement: This includes any racially offensive, discriminatory language or speech that could provoke political unrest.
3. Harmful Insults: Language causing significant psychological harm or distress is strictly prohibited.

Enforcement: Violations lead to substantial fines and/or imprisonment, reinforcing the commitment to a respectful public discourse.

Amendment 2: Refusal to Provide Identification

Citizens are entitled to privacy and can refuse to identify themselves except under specific lawful conditions:

1. When Required: Law enforcement must demonstrate valid reasons such as suspicion of a crime or probable cause.
2. Exceptions: Identification is mandatory for state facility access to ensure security.

Penalties: Unlawful refusal results in fines or imprisonment, while law enforcement's misuse of this rule can also face legal scrutiny.

Amendment 3: Right to Bear Arms

The right to bear arms is preserved under regulated conditions to ensure public safety:

1. Weapons must not be openly displayed.
2. A government-issued license is mandatory.
3. Weapons cannot be carried into state buildings.
4. All firearms must be purchased from authorized stores.

5. Ammunition limits are strictly defined (1 weapon + 100 rounds).

Penalties: Violations include significant fines and extended imprisonment, emphasizing responsible gun ownership.

Amendment 4: Search and Seizure

This amendment protects individuals against arbitrary invasions of privacy:

1. Probable Cause: Searches and seizures require warrants based on credible evidence.
2. Specificity: Warrants must clearly define the scope of the search and the items or persons involved.

Penalties: Unlawful searches may result in evidence dismissal and fines for responsible officers, ensuring accountability.

Amendment 5: Excessive Punishment

This amendment prohibits any form of punishment deemed excessive or inhumane:

1. Scope: Applies to fines, bail amounts, and punitive measures.
2. Oversight: Ensures proportionality and fairness in sentencing.

Penalties: Violations result in hefty fines and potential dismissal of the responsible parties, safeguarding humane treatment.

Penal codes of State of San Andreas

Article 1. General Provisions

The Penal Code constitutes the body of legislation that governs crimes and infractions within the state.

§1.1 Purpose of the Penal Code

The primary objectives of the Penal Code are as follows:

- To define and address misconduct that may cause harm to citizens or public interest.
- To establish sentencing guidelines for violations of the Penal Code.

- To detail the Penal Code and its corresponding breaches.
- To categorize offenses into minor and major infractions.
- To outline the impact of offenses on individuals and society.
- To ensure the provision of measures aimed at maintaining public safety.

§1.2 Criminal Liability

Criminal liability requires that a crime be proven beyond a reasonable doubt, in accordance with Article 2, Section 5 of the Code of Procedures for the State of San Andreas.

§1.3 Categories of Felonies

The Penal Code defines the following categories of felonies:

- Class E Felony: Imprisonment for up to fifteen (15) months and/or a fine of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000).
- Class D Felony: Imprisonment for up to thirty (30) months.
- Class C Felony: Imprisonment for up to forty-five (45) months.
- Class B Felony: Imprisonment for up to sixty (60) months.
- Class A Felony: Imprisonment for up to seventy-five (75) months, with no possibility of bail.

§1.4 Categories of Infractions

The Penal Code defines the following categories of infractions:

- Class C Infraction: A minor infraction, which may result in a monetary penalty and/or revocation of a driving license.
- Class B Infraction: Infractions that carry a monetary penalty and/or revocation of multiple licenses.
- Class A Infraction: Infractions that result in a monetary penalty and revocation of multiple licenses.
- Unclassified Infractions: Infractions that fall under a separate category, subject to unique procedural measures.

§1.5 Penal Code Punishments

The Penal Code outlines the following nine (9) potential punishments, which may be applied individually or in combination:

- Demotion
- Dismissal
- Ineligibility for influential positions
- Prohibition of access
- Confiscation of property and/or licenses
- Detention, arrest, and imprisonment
